The New Revolution in Spain Pronounced a Failure.

General Intelligence.

LONDON, July 29.

The Times to-day has an article on the Chinese question in the United States. It thinks the contest of races in California cannot be solved by heavy duties on immigration or by armed outrages. It is almost impossible to suppose that the Chinese could be prevented America, whatever as they do on ancient civilization and perfect colonization, and besides the benefits of the strength and cheapness of labor, which engage commerce. The Chinese are not necessarily to remain in California. They are coming in a large stream to the Pacific coast, and although a part may find a continue in the North.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, July 29.—MORNING.

In the House of Commons, Gladstone, Mr. Grey, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, in reply to a question stated that the present condition of relations between England and Russia, pertaining to the boundary of Merv, was satisfactory. The boundary of Merv is the northernmost of their limit, but owing to the uncertainty of the boundary of Merv, nothing definite could be stated.

THE MARCH OF CIVILIZATION IN JAPAN.

The Herald, of this date, says out of the Thames tunnel. In the meantime the tunnel is in future use, and the proprietary hope to pay for the expenses they raised to finish the tunnel. They have now sold off three or more of the arches, and have got rent for the rest, so that they are not dependent on yet who will succeed them.

FAILURE OF A NEW YORK BANKER.

LIVERPOOL, July 29.

A cablegram from Cork, dated this morning, says that Mr. Hall, a banker there, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He was formerly a banker in New York, but failed in business there.

PROBABLE POSTPONEMENT OF THE CARLIST MOVEMENT.

PARIS, July 29.

La Liberte reports that Montpensier, the father of Don Juan Carlos, has left Paris for Switzerland. It adds there are rumors that the Carlists in Paris think their cause lost.

MADRID, July 29.

The Carlist movement on the Ebro has not yet commenced but the Carlists generally, at Catalonia, have fixed on the 1st of August. The Carlist forces in the Biscayan provinces have fled to the valley of Alcaser with the professional troops in command. Several of the Carlist officers have resigned. Despatches from Bilbao say that the Carlists are dead to death by a council of war, but efforts will be made to have them pardoned.

THE RECENT REVOLUTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.

Rear Admiral Bowan, Captain Pope, and Lieutenant Brownell, of the United States Navy, have returned from Japan. They left Yokohama on the 15th inst. Their visit was principally for pleasure. They were received with great attention by the Japanese officials. The Mikado was at Yeddo when they left. The Tycoon was at Osaka. The Admiral says he will be required to remain at the Capital. There are now seven foreign ministers at Yeddo. Japan is now in a state of peace. The Admiral says he has not been molested in any way, and has not seen any evidence of hostility to foreigners.

THE SCAFFOLD.

Hanging of John Griffis at Hamilton, Ohio, for the Murder of Uncel Prickett—History of the Crime.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

HAMILTON, Ohio, July 30.

JOHN GRIFFIS, the murderer of an aged two victims, was to-day hanged in the jail of this county.

The murder for which he paid the penalty of his crime was that of UNCEL PRICKETT, on the 23d of June 18, 1868. PRICKETT was a peddler, and was killed and robbed on the day of the murder by GRIFFIS, who had a claim against him for a debt which he was unwilling to pay. GRIFFIS was thirteen years old at the time of the murder, and was employed by PRICKETT to drive his team. The murder was committed in the night, and the boy revealed the secret to his father, who, with his son, GRIFFIS, was arrested and lodged in jail. The boy was released on bail, but the father remained in confinement for nearly a year, when he was tried and convicted of the murder, and sentenced to be hanged on the 30th day of July, 1869. The boy, GRIFFIS, was tried in the Fall of 1868, and convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. He was pardoned by Governor HAYES, on the 14th of December, 1868, and returned to his father's house. The latter, who was a man of considerable property, had made a will, by the terms of which he left the bulk of his estate to his son, GRIFFIS, and the latter, after his release from the penitentiary, had been in the habit of visiting his father frequently, and had been treated by him with the greatest kindness. The old man had also

A RISE INEVITABLE.

A telegram from Louisville, Kentucky, published in another column, announces that, at the meeting on the 27th instant, of the Memphis & Louisville Railroad, only three persons were found and twenty-eight persons were represented by proxy. Parts of a year ago it was declared that the directors had failed to receive a dollar, and had not even a dollar to pay for the rent of a room in which to meet. The road has been three years behind (time increased to four) and seventy-eight miles (not seven-ty-two) of iron are yet to be laid. Some idea of the difficulties which have prevented the completion of the road may be formed from the fact that it has been twice sold under the hammer of the law in the prosecution of liens against the property of their predecessors, and the full enjoyment of the profits of their own industry. The government, at present, has no interest in the road, except a contingent interest in favor of any interest without disqualifying capital others, and consequently cannot abstain from any interference at all; and to the extent that the government does abstain, and every man is left free, the Government of the United States will be justified in declining duties, and the personal industry and frugality and skill of the citizens reap their just reward.

THREE FLATTERING OFFERS.

If Secretary Boutwell desires the public to accept at par the renewal of a professed Shylock loan, at low rates of interest, which are now being forced from the Treasury Department, he would do well to make the whole affair, instead of issuing half bonds and half notes, have the appearance of being in effect, fabulously. The country is glad to know that the wholesale of the national honor and the quietus put on republication by the election of General Grant and the economical and vigorous collection of the revenue since, and the evident reduction of the interest which we pay, have so far restored the national credit, that the Government could, on the first of last October, have sold in London for 72½ are now selling for 85½, an advance of nearly twenty-five per cent. This is no result of special financial legislation in the past twenty months, but is the natural consequence of the reaction from that which found sales of a million and a quarter of bonds per week in a single month, and which would then gratify the ambition of any financier to have sold at par. It is the natural reaction from the utter folly of inflation and drift backward toward republication, the latest folly of opinion and the main cause of the present low rate of interest. The country, however, is not afraid of. And the suggestion to how "forcefully" the political compromises are slandered in the use of falsehood by the fortunate survivors of those measures. Instead of being grateful that their unspeakable vote was passed by the disinterested enemy of the Republic, who might so easily have sent them into eternity or any others, they forthwith set about slandering the party that saved them

THE IOWA LAND SWINDLE.

Correspondence From the Executive of Chautauqua—The Purchase Lands Ordered For Sale in the Market.

In the fall of the previous year the "Iowa Land Swindle," published in THE TRIBUNE a few days since, first appeared the element of fish which these land agents are hawking about town, and with them. Associated in the list of this element was the name of Ex-Governor Kirkwood, of the Chautauqua, Mr. Kirkwood has been written to on the subject, and the following correspondence has been published in the original shape:

CHAUTAUQUA, Iowa, July 15, 1869.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune:

My time letter of interrogation was forwarded me yesterday from Washington.

To reply that, about after the Boston banquet, I was in Chicago, and there met Mr. [illegible] of Boston, who represented himself as the agent of the Iowa Land Company, and who had a large amount of land for sale for cash. I told him that I was not in the market, and that I had no money to invest in land. He then asked me if I knew of any one who had money to invest in land, and I told him that I did not. He then asked me if I knew of any one who had money to invest in land, and I told him that I did not. He then asked me if I knew of any one who had money to invest in land, and I told him that I did not. ST. GEORGE'S PICNIC.

St. George's Society and Their Friends at Blue Park.

A Day of Pleasure.

The annual picnic of the St. George's Society, and invited local guests, took place yesterday at Blue Park. Three long trains of cars, crowded to their utmost capacity, left the depot of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, on Kinzie street, at 9 o'clock in the morning, and proceeded to the grounds, which are situated about seven miles from the city, on the line of the road. The weather was all that could be desired for such an occasion, and the day was spent in the enjoyment of the various amusements provided for the entertainment of the visitors. The grounds were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, and the whole scene presented a very animated appearance. The following is a list of the officers of the society:

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

A Record of Every Vote.

From the London Daily News, July 9.

The Earl of Malmesbury has done a useful thing in moving for a return of the votes of the Lords on the Irish Church question. The return is now before us, and we have only to add the votes on the second reading to the votes on the first reading, and we shall have a complete record of the votes of the Lords on the Irish Church question. THE FISH BARE.

To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune:

In your Police Court reports, of to-day's issue, you say that Detective Shepard came to our store and arrested a man for selling fish without a peddler's license. We desire to state that we have not sold any fish for over two years, and have no peddler's license, and consequently could not have violated the ordinance. We would be glad to have the matter investigated, and if we have violated the ordinance we will pay the fine imposed by a Police Court, July 9, 1869.
